

Helping People Go the Distance
My Personal Plan For Outreach

Go the Distance

That process begins with evangelism, sharing the complete gospel message. Inviting people to repent of their sins, receive the forgiveness of sin, and to publicly confess Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior through believer's baptism is every soul winner's objective.

Use this booklet to assist you in helping people "go the distance", i.e. move from the place of slavery, through the places of preparation, and into the place of profitability as they join with God in seeing God's will done on earth as it is in heaven.

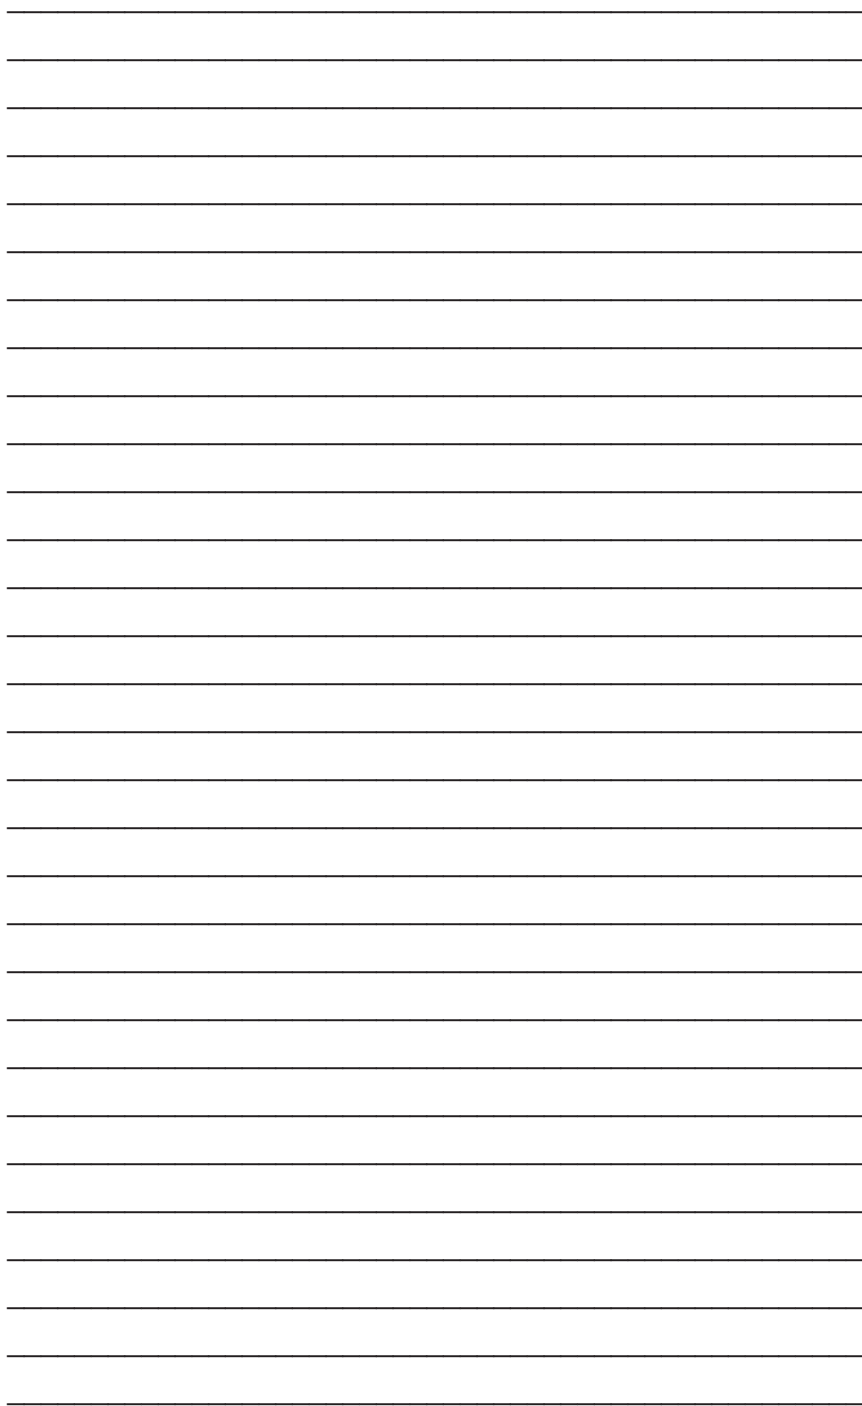

Record the name, contact information, actions you take to build a witnessing relationship, and the response to your witness for individuals God has brought into your life.

Some questions you will want to answer for each individual are:

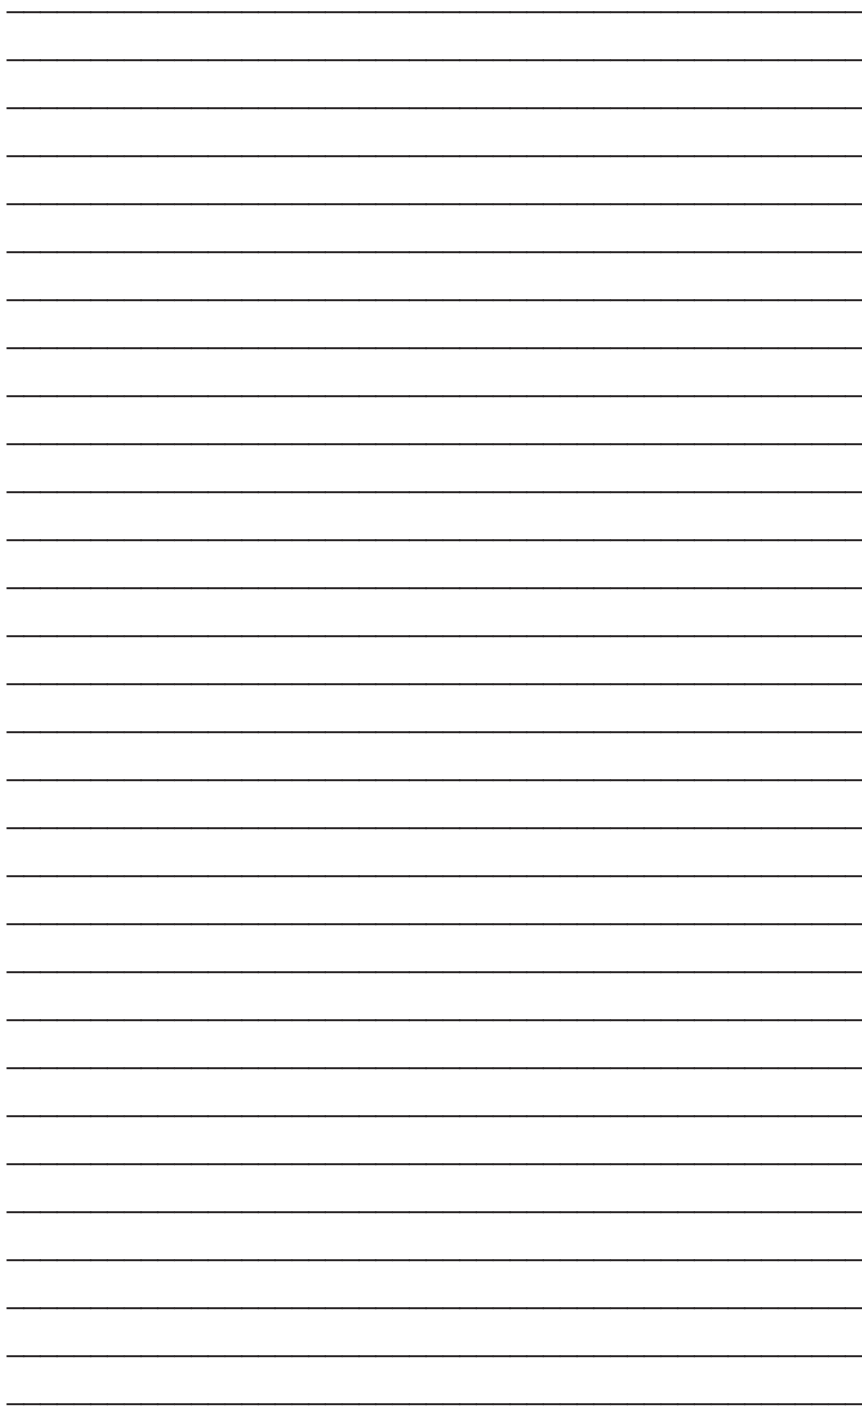

1. "What must I become to the person in order to have the opportunity to share a complete gospel message? Examples of what others have said are: available ... a friend ... a real dad.
2. "Where is the person most likely to hear the gospel"? Examples of what others have said are: at home ... at school ... at a safe, non-threatening activity or event ... at church.
3. "In what format will the person most likely consider and respond to the gospel"? Examples of what others have said are: while discussing what the Bible says about God ... after hearing my story about relating to Jesus Christ ... while seeing the gospel illustrated ... someone who speaks their native language.
4. "Who has God prepared to partner with me in sharing the gospel with this individual"? Examples of what others have said: a close friend ... a pastor .. a neighbor.
5. "What resources will help me engage the person in sharing the gospel"? Examples of what others have said: a gospel tract ... a marked new testament ... an activity the person will attend where they can hear and we can talk about Jesus Christ.

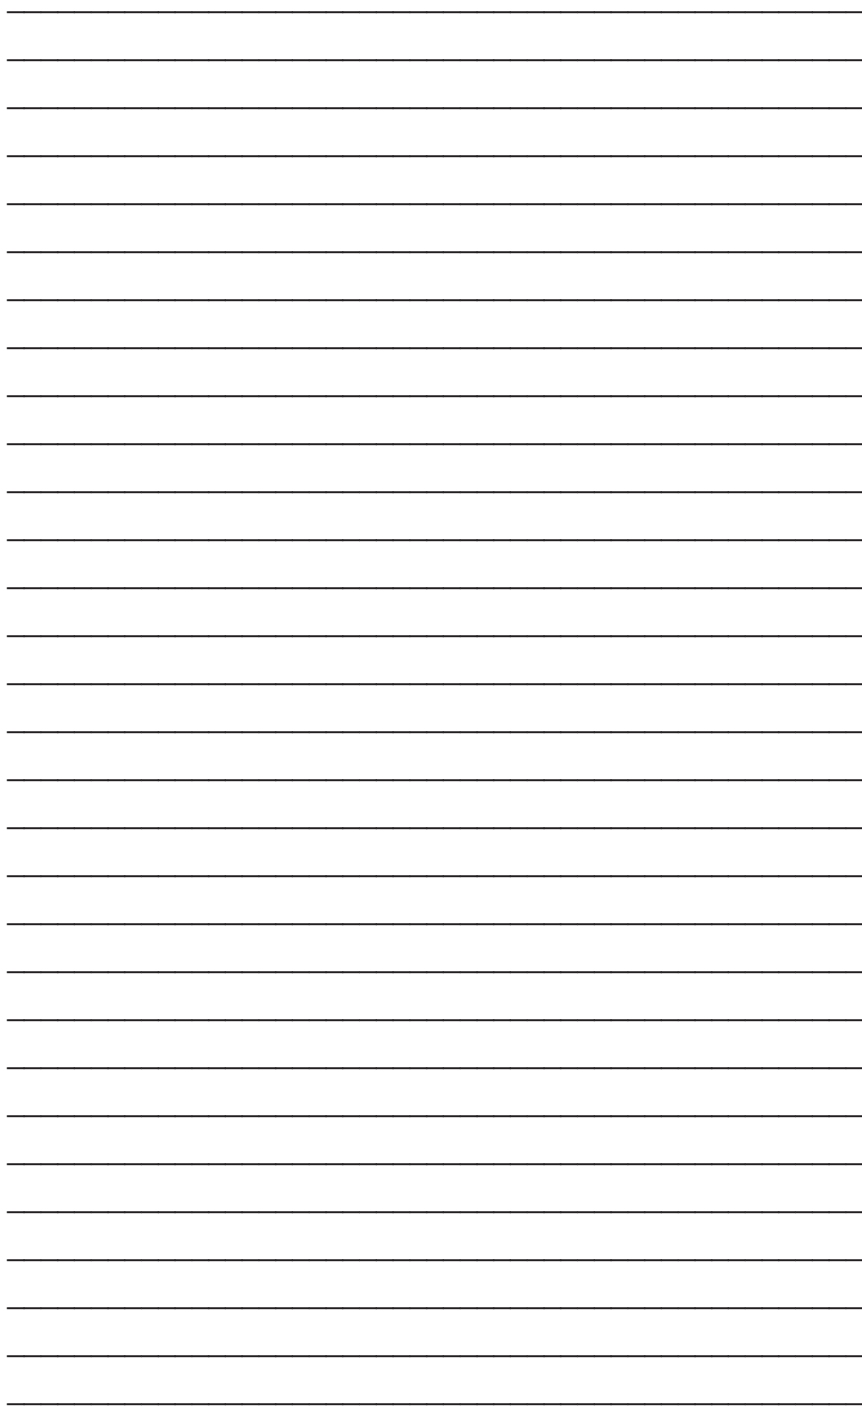

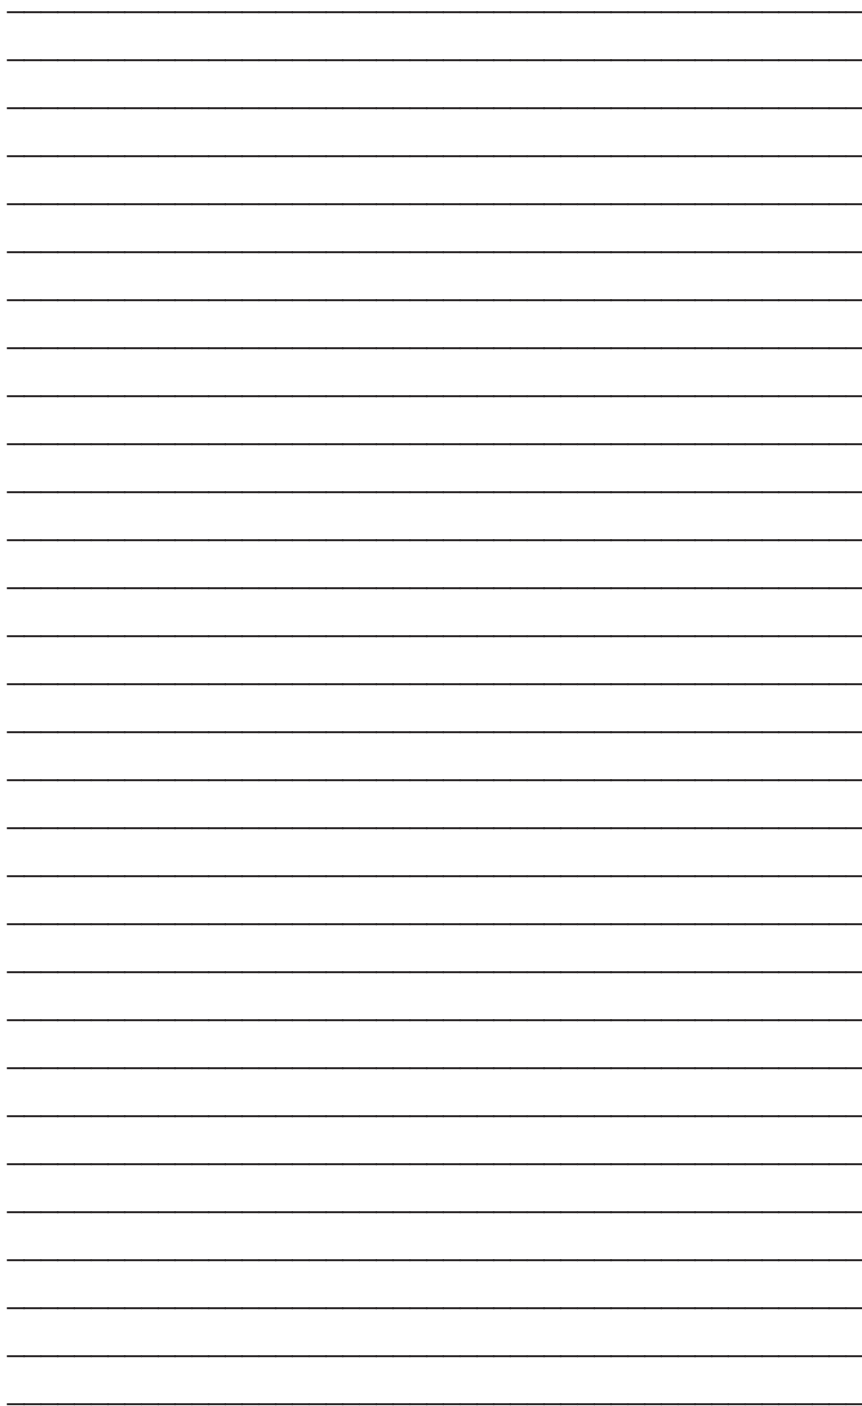

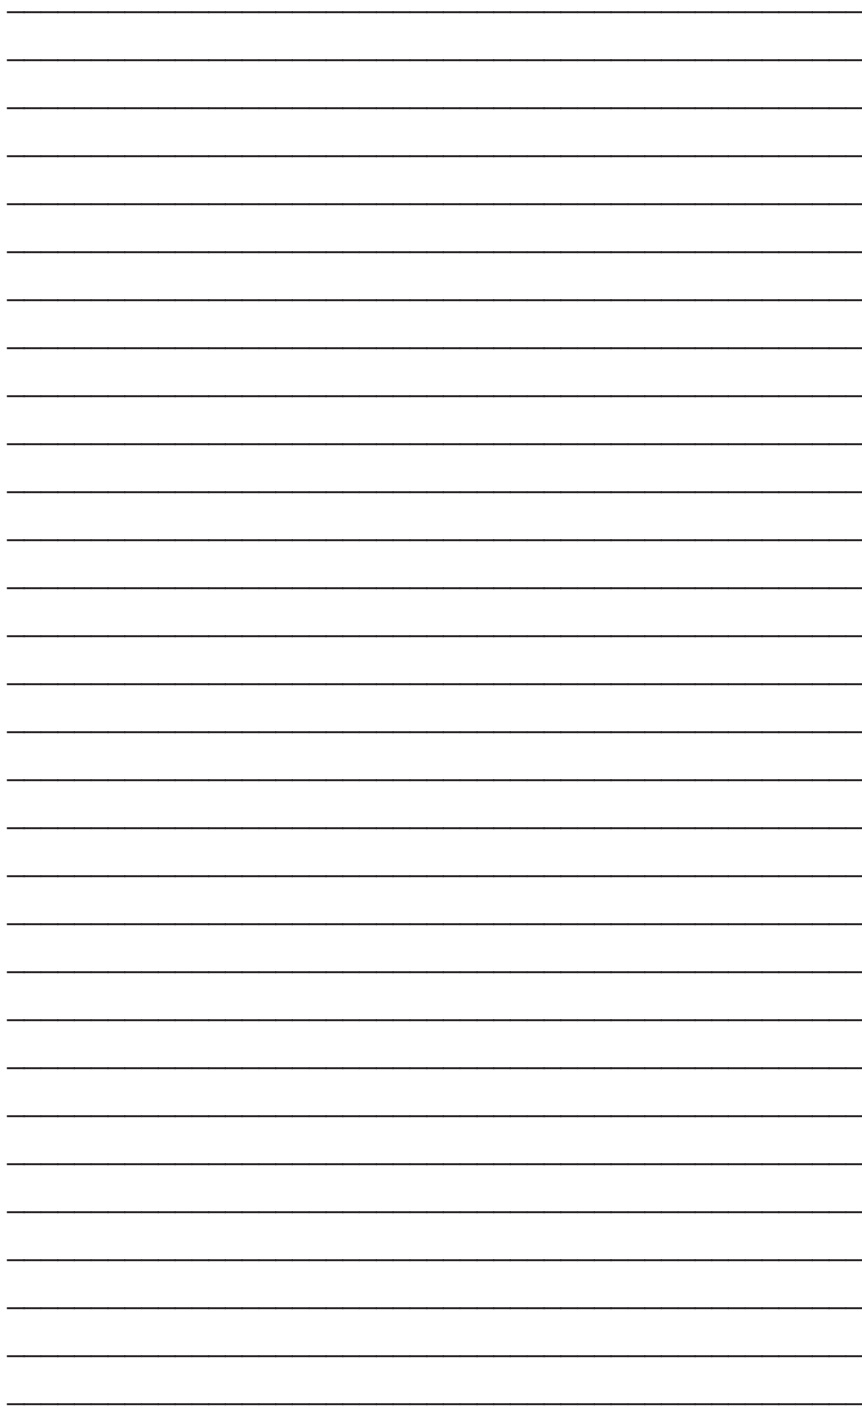

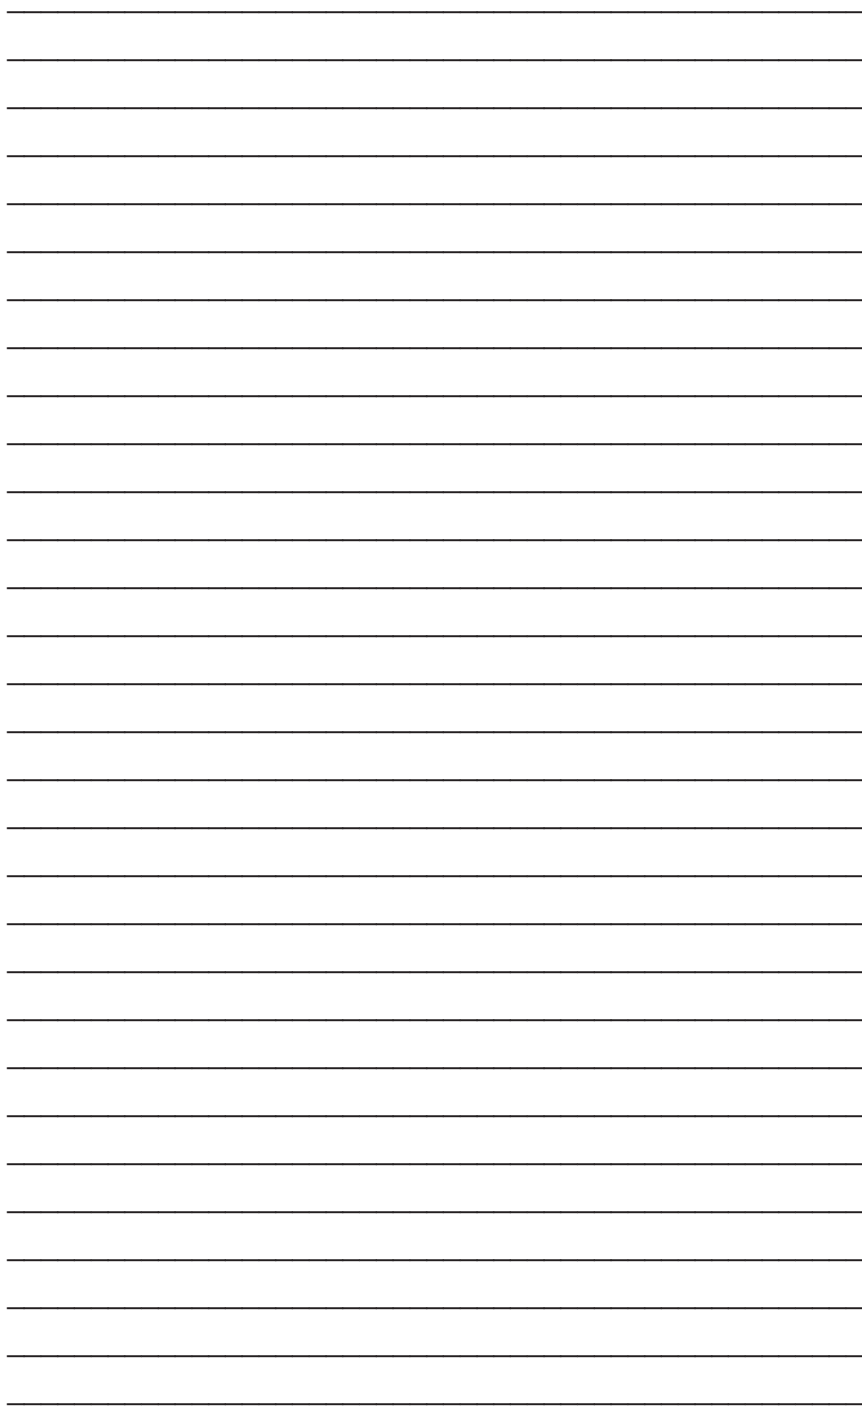

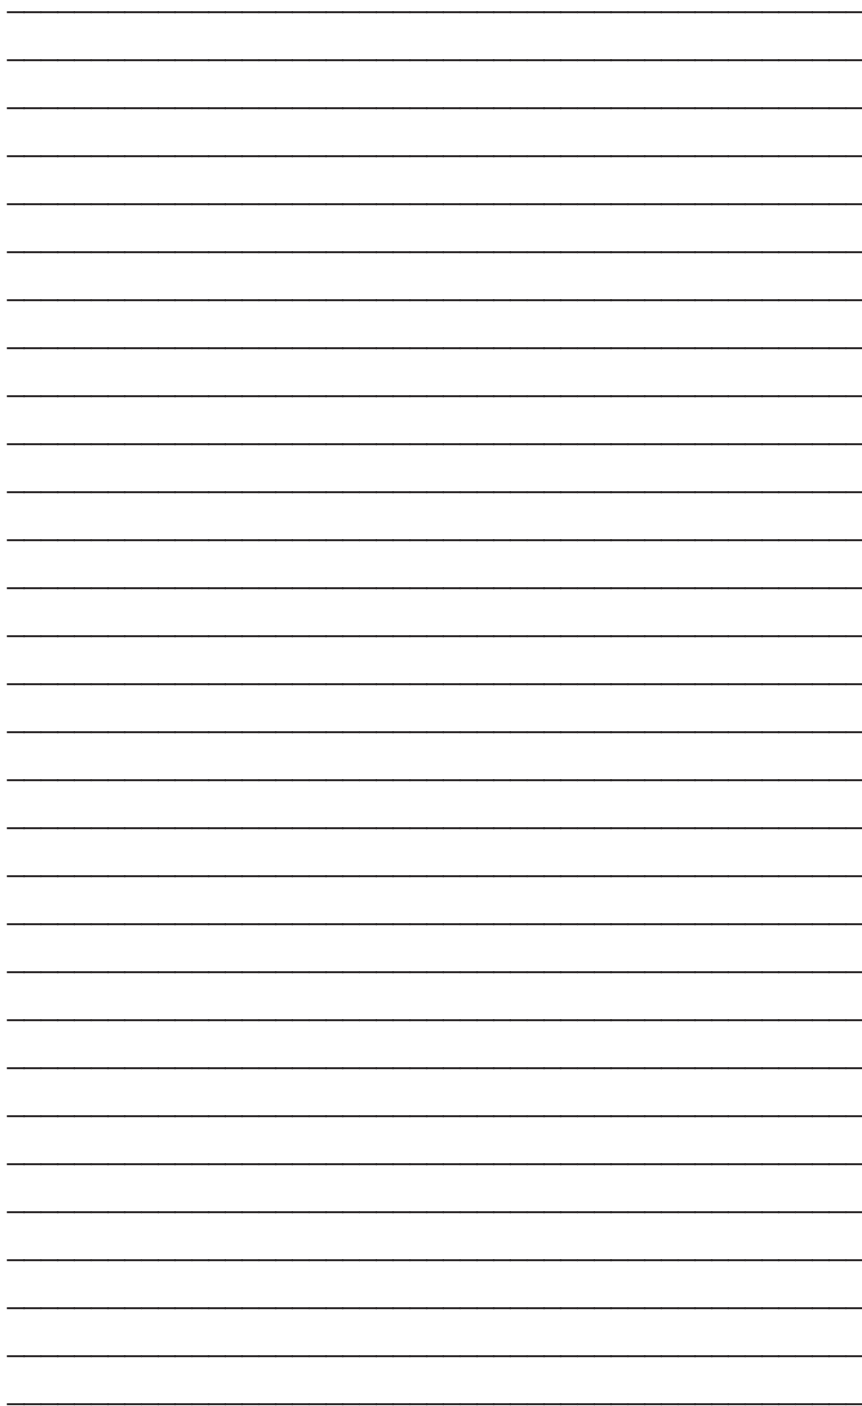

Striving to be obedient to God's will, we will develop disciples of Jesus Christ, present the Gospel to the lost, and serve others as we worship the living God.
